TTFF PRIZES

The Festival offers a support on the production of audio-visual and/or purchase of materials which is equal to the value of 2.000 (two thousands) Euros, to be divided between the two best videos:

1. Prize Benedetto Senni having a value of 1.000 (one thousand) Euro, which will be given to the best film addressing issues relating to the fight against poverty, valorisation and defence of natural resources, food sovereignty, sustainable and biological agriculture, access to water and migrations.
2. Prize Giovanni Lo Porto, the aid worker and GVC's collaborator killed in 2015 during a US anti-terrorist attack. This prize, having a value of 1.000 (one thousand) Euro, has the main purpose of valorising documentaries narrating the efforts and the resistance of men and women who do not hesitate in the face of violence and persecution, but promoting values such as solidarity and respect for human rights, peace and freedom.

PRIZEGIVING

The awards ceremony will take place during the last night of the Festival.
The artistic judgment of the jury is unquestionable.

OFFICIAL WEBSITE

The official contest's website is www.terradituttifilmfestival.org where all relevant and useful information for the participation is available. Any further information can be requested by writing to the following e-mail address info@terradituttifilmfestival.org
The organization is free to publish all submitted and admitted films to the contest on the official website. In any case, the materials will be published after the submission deadline.

RESPONSIBILITY

Participation in the contest implies the full commitment to the present regulation.
Participation in the Festival implies having read and accepted what reported by the organizers in the entry form about privacy and personal data treatment. Following the on-going Italian law (D.Lgs 196/2003), the privacy policyholders of the personal data received are the organizers of the Festival.
The contents of the submitted films (picture, sounds, animation) must respect the copyright legislation. The Terra di Tutti Film Festival refuses every responsibility in this regard.
The participation to the competition implies the author's exclusive responsibility for any irregularities on this subject; the organizers reserve the right to exclude from the contest and to revoke any prize to the films presenting such irregularities.
At the incontestable discretion of the organizers, the videos considered offensive or harmful for the image of the promoters and/or in contrast with the code of ethics of the NGOs promoting the Festival will be excluded from the competition and they will not be published.
The Festival Direction will decide on any unclear case and on what not expressly said in the present regulation. In case of any dispute, the Court of Bologna will be the competent court.
